

Mission:

To provide quality transcripts of depositions and proceedings in a timely and professional manner;
To provide communication access to the deaf and hard-of hearing through CART and captioning.

Our Promise:

PROFESSIONAL: We are dedicated to providing the highest standards of excellence in court reporting, litigation support services, CART and captioning.

EXPERIENCED: Verbatim is verbatim -- even when the words are long and complex. We have the experience to excel in the most challenging environments.

TECHNICALLY SKILLED: There is no substitute for speed and accuracy on the job.

PREPARED: When possible, case dictionaries are built prior to proceedings. This ensures accurate terminology and spelling and reduces editing time.

COMPUTERIZED: We use modern writing machines, laptop computers and transcription software. There is no other way to practice the art of reporting in today's market.

CONSISTENT DELIVERY: When you leave a proceeding reported by The Caption Company, you don't worry about delivery of your transcript. It just shows up on time, all the time.

Communication Access Realtime Translation (CART) is the instant translation of the spoken word into English text using a stenotype machine, notebook computer and realtime software. The text may be displayed on a computer monitor for individual viewing, projected onto a large screen for audience viewing, or sent via an encoder to provide closed/open captioning for television broadcasts.

This technology is primarily used by people who are late-deafened, oral deaf, hard-of-hearing, or have cochlear implants. Culturally deaf individuals also make use of CART in certain situations. Please keep in mind that CART is also often referred to as realtime captioning.
